

Book Sale Policy
May 15, 2023

The library offers two book sales each year traditionally held during Canaan Town Wide Yard Sale Days in May and September.

We will accept large donations (2 or more boxes) for the book sale during the month prior to the sale. Other small donations (1 or 2 items) may be accepted throughout the year.

Library staff and book sale volunteers will be responsible for deciding which materials will be sold during the book sale. Outdated almanacs, travel guides, encyclopedias, textbooks, and the like are examples of material which may not be sold.

Books and other materials will be checked for condition before addition to the sale.

All materials donated to the library become property of the library to use in any appropriate manner.

All monies raised from library books sales will be used specifically for library expenses.
